

AGENDA

Preventing NAFLD-NASH epidemic in EU- patients' perspective

European Commission, Berlaymont building, room S9

8 January 2019

09:30 – 09:45	WELCOME Chair: Marko Korenjak, President of the European Liver Patients' Association Key-note opening speech: Carlos Moedas, European Commissioner for Science, Research and Innovation
09:45 – 10:00	Results from the NAFLD policy review Jeffrey Lazarus, Vice-chairman of the EASL International Liver Foundation
10:00 – 10:15	Screening and referral policy in primary care Helena Cortez – Pinto, EU Policy Councillor at European Association for the Study of the Liver
10:15 – 10:30	LITMUS, EPos & the European NAFLD Registry - European Efforts to Improve the Diagnosis of NAFLD Quentin M. Anstee, Deputy-Director of the Institute of Cellular Medicine
10:30 – 10:45	COFFEE BREAK
10:45 – 11:00	Strategies to increase awareness and detection of NAFLD Manuel Romero-Gómez, President of SAPD. Digestive Diseases Unit. Virgen del Rocío University Hospital. SeLiver group at Institute of Biomedicine of Seville
11:00 – 11:15	Role of nutrition in prevention of NAFLD and NASH Jörn M. Schattenberg, Universitätsmedizin Mainz
11:15 – 11:30	Meaningful patient involvement and patient literacy in European perspective Elena Balestra, European Patients' Forum

11:30 – 11:45	DISCUSSION
11:45 – 12:00	CONCLUSIONS BY Rajiv Jalan, Professor of Hepatology, Institute for Liver and Digestive Health, Division of Medicine, Faculty of Medical Sciences Editor in Chief of the Journal of Hepatology